The Center for Applied Research Solutions (CARS) is a California 501(c)(3) nonprofit dedicated to health equity in behavioral health, public health, and education. In all our work, our mission is to foster safe, healthy, and engaged people and communities.

We provide training and technical assistance for workforce development to major initiatives in mental health, substance abuse, and reducing behavioral health disparities. We develop organizational leadership and workforce capacity to effectively adopt, implement, and sustain changes in policy and practice towards systemic and structural improvements. Our team is committed to improving individual and community health and wellness through evidence-based and culturally responsive practices that address complex social problems. We promote authentic community engagement, elevation of cultural expertise, and community-defined effective practices. Clients include federal and state agencies, local and community-based organizations, educational agencies, and more. Our projects are fast-paced and team-run. Our organization is relationship-based and competency-driven with team members striving to produce timely, relevant, and high-quality learning experiences and services.

General Description: The Project Director position will oversee the California Mental Health Equity Project (CMHEP) TA Center. The goal of the CMHEP TA Center is to reduce health disparities and expand Californians' access to culturally and linguistically responsive behavioral health services. The initiative focuses on developing policies, practices, and guidance to counties and communities in developing, implementing, and evaluating Cultural Competence Plans. More broadly the initiative provides training and technical assistance to county behavioral health departments to increase their expertise in cultural humility, health equity, stakeholder engagement, language access, and trauma-informed care and to assist them in the development of population-specific and community-driven approaches to reducing disparities. Priority activities include a community-driven process to identify recommended revisions to county cultural competence plan guidelines in alignment with national CLAS standards and the development and roll-out of a corresponding performance evaluation framework. This position will direct research and policy activities, as well as provide consultation and trainings support to county and community-based organizations. This individual will serve as direct point of contact with the funder and work in collaboration with an internal staffing team, research partners, stakeholders, and the field
